Traveling by train:

From Saarbruecken main train station (Hauptbahnhof, Hbf) take bus 124 (every 30 min. direction Universität Busterminal) to station Universität Campus, travel time approx. 15 min. Alternatively, take Saarbahn S1 (tram) direction Brebach to station Johanneskirche (2nd stop) and change to bus 101 or 102 (direction Dudweiler Dudoplatz) again to station Universität Campus, travel time approx. 20 min. (details: www.saarfahrplan.de).

Alternatively: give us advance notice, when you will be arriving, so we can pick you up at the station.

Traveling by car:

From the east (direction Frankfurt/Mannheim/Karlsruhe) via autobahn A6 direction Saarbrücken, take exit St. Ingbert West, and follow the signs to the university campus to either main or east entrance.

From the west (direction Paris/Luxembourg/Metz) via autobahn A6 pass Saarbrücken in direction Mannheim, take exit St. Ingbert West, and follow the signs to the university campus to either main or east entrance.

From the north (direction Trier/Koblenz) via autobahn A1 direction Saarbrücken take the A8 direction Karlsruhe at Kreuz Saarbrücken to Kreuz Neunkirchen, then the A6 direction Saarbrücken and continue as described above (east). This is a long way around but much easier than driving through the village of Dudweiler or through Saarbrücken.

Parking space on campus is limited, we advise you to use the garages at either main or east entrance, cf. map. If you do park on campus, you will receive an exit ticket so parking is without charge.

(Note: for GPS navigation use either University campus or address Stuhlsatzenhausweg.)

On Campus:

The Lab for Measurement Technology is located in building A5 1 (see map below) on the second floor left. Secretary office is room 2.34.
